BYOD

Students can bring in their BYOD devices to school from Monday 8th October. To use them in school they will need to connect to the “BYOD Wireless Network” by selecting the network from the internet selection icon in the bottom right hand corner of the screen, as shown below:

Now select the Rickmansworth BYOD Network:
Once it is connected. Go to the search bar window in the bottom left hand corner of the screen and type Internet Explorer as shown below:

Once you have opened Internet Explorer, you should see a logon screen as shown below:

You now need to Type in your School User ID and Password, to access the internet.

Please remember that the internet connection is filtered and monitored and that you should only use it for school work.
Use of the Laptop Within School

Teacher will inform you of when to bring your laptop to school, for a lesson. You must abide by the following Rules:-

1. Laptops must only be used in the classroom during lessons or in the library when given permission to do so.
2. For your own safety, laptops must never be taken outside to be used during breaktime or lunchtime.
3. You must follow the instructions from the teacher as follows:
   a. If the teacher issues a “Green” code, then you are free to use the laptops.
   b. If the teacher issues an “Amber” code, then the laptop may be out in front of you, but it must be closed.
   c. If the teacher issues a “Red” code, then the laptop must be in your bag and not be used, until the teacher has said so.

Failure to comply with any of the above will result in a consequence being issued to the student in question.
